

ReSource provides immersive mission experience weekends in a range of locations and contexts. Why this immersive approach? There are plenty of courses out there that impart head knowledge but we think we learn best by meeting people who are doing mission, by hanging out with their communities, hearing their stories and then thinking about what we can learn for our own contexts. Throw in some diverse contexts, some great food and other inspiring people on the weekends and you've got a great mix!
